From the SOUTH-CAROLINA and AMERICAN GENERAL GAZETTE, dated April 29, 1765, published during the discontinuation of this Gazette.

A Message from his Excellency the Governor, to the Honourable the Commons House of Assembly.

"Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Commons House of Assembly,

THOUGH I have been already disappointed in my hopes that you would provide for various services, which have occasionally required your aid, though you have disregarded an application of mine, made to you in consequence of the King's orders, that a temporary line should be run, which orders were the effect of your own solicitations by your agent; yet it is my duty to acquaint you, that his Majesty does, by his ministers, especially recommend to the legislature of this province the establishing in a body a certain number of French protestants, who are actually arrived here, well versed in the culture of silk and vines, and who will in all probability, if encouraged, be followed by many more: the settling them as a distinct colony is most likely to answer the end of introducing new commodities into this province, as well as most conformable to his Majesty's intentions; but without your assistance it is impossible to effect it: the season is advanced, the land is to be surveyed, and they are not only without provisions, but the means of purchasing them, for the ship has a claim to the bounty allowed by the province for passage. I have a pleasure in considering the opportunity now offered you of imitating the benevolence of our gracious Sovereign, who has condescended to take these unfortunate people under his particular protection.

April 23d, 1765. THOMAS BOONE.

"The above message was accompanied by an extract of a letter, from the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners for Trade and Plantations, especially recommending these unfortunate people to the attention of the Governor, Council and Assembly, as his Majesty had been pleased to extend his particular protection and support towards them; but this service was not provided for nor considered; and the Assembly, by their not meeting yesterday to their adjournment, are again at an end, unless they should be again revived."

It is to be observed, by the Reader, that the matter, mentioned in Gov. Boone's message were not provided for or considered at that time, merely on account of a dispute then subsisting between his excellency and the assembly, upon a point of the highest consequence to the privileges of that house: but the following message from his honour the lieutenant governor will shew (notwithstanding the insinuations of the publisher of the above paragraph) that the conduct of the assembly, with regard to the several matters mentioned in that message, has been highly acceptable to his Majesty and the Ministry.

In the Commons House of Assembly, the 2d Day of April, 1765.

Ordered, that the following message from his honour the Lieutenant-Governor be printed in both the Gazettes of this province, and that the clerk do give each of the printers copies thereof for that purpose. T. BROMLEY, clerk.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen,

IT is with great pleasure, I communicate to you the answer with which I have lately been honoured from the right honourable the lords of trade, to whom I had (in justice to you) represented your readiness in providing for several matters which I had recommended to you by his majesty's command. Their lordships are pleased to express their sentiments concerning your behaviour in the following words.

"The dutiful zeal with which the assembly have complied with his majesty's commands, in respect to the colony of French protestants, and the providing for the establishment of the temporary line of jurisdiction, cannot fail to meet with his majesty's approbation; and it is with great pleasure we observe their attention to the discharge of the public debts, as also for the restraining the too great importation of negroes, a measure, which, as long as it is accompanied with a proper encouragement to the importation of white people, does appear to us to be founded on reason and true policy." Their lordships are pleased further to assure me, that they shall on their parts be happy in every opportunity of supporting any measures that tend to promote the trade and welfare of this important province.

Though I am sensible your consciousness of having discharged your duty to your king and country affords you great satisfaction, yet I am persuaded, it will receive some addition from finding your well intended services honoured with the approbation of his Majesty; and I think myself happy in receiving this information before the business of this session is brought to a conclusion, that I may acquaint you therewith before you return to your respective homes.

April 2d, 1765. WILLIAM BULL.

JOHN RUTLEDGE, Attorney General.

CHARLES-TOWN, April 6, 1765.

LATE letters from London, inform us that the laying of Stamp-Duties in America, had met with great opposition in parliament; but that at length a bill was ordered to be brought in for that purpose: That none of the representations from the colonies had been presented to the house of commons: And that, notwithstanding general warrants, the house had resolved, that it was improper and unnecessary to fix, by a vote of the house, what ought to be deemed the law, in the particular case of libels, while prosecutions were actually depending in the courts of law — widely different from what Wednesday's General Gazette tells us, "That the matter was cognizable only in the courts of law."

This day his Honour the Lieutenant-Governor was pleased to give his assent to the following acts, viz.

1. An Act, for raising and granting to his Majesty, the sum of £. 102,929: 12: 3, and applying £. 30,270: 8: 9, (being the balance of several funds in the Public Treasury) making together £. 133,198: 1: 0, to defray the charges of the government from the 25th day of Jan. 1764, to the 31st day of Dec. following (both days inclusive) and for other services therein mentioned.

2. An Act, to promote and carry more fully into execution, an act to incorporate the Winyah Indico Society, now of force in this province.

3. An Act, to impower the persons therein named, to sell and dispose of a tract of land on Wadmalaw-Island, therein mentioned, and to purchase another tract of land for the Pastor or Minister of the Meeting-house on John's-Island.

After which his Honour was pleased to return his thanks for the provision they had made for the public debts. And the general assembly had leave to adjourn to Tuesday the 16th of July next, when, it is probable, several matters and bills lying before them, not yet brought to maturity, may conclude the session.

Seven Thousand Pounds has been voted this session towards building a new Fort near the mouth of Broad-River, (being the most convenient situation for the protection of the Irish, French and German Protestants at and near Hillsborough-Township) instead of Fort-Moore: Nine Hundred Pounds has also been voted, as a gratuity to Judd's Friend, and his party, for their services on the late expedition undertaken by them at the request of his Honour the Lieutenant-Governor: But no bill has been brought in for establishing Fairs at Pine-Tree-Hill, the house being of opinion, that no benefit or advantage could arise to the province therefrom.

By vessels arrived from the different provinces in North-America, it is confirmed, that the 1st: Winter has been much the severest of any felt within 40 years past.

The 22d spoke with the Industry, Captain Kelly, from the Bay of Honduras, for Philadelphia, all well.

LONDON, JANUARY 12.

PRIVATE letters from Berlin confirm the report that his Prussian Majesty has certainly a design to effect a new settlement on the American continent, said to be somewhere near the isthmus of Darien; and that methods are now taking to engage shipping, officers, and seamen, to forward the expedition.

It was with great pleasure observed, that his most gracious Majesty is truly British, by appearing on Thursday last at the Great Assembly of the nation in a Tyrian bloom-colour coat of English manufactory; and it is not doubted but many of the nobility and gentry will readily follow so good and great an example.

They write from Versailles, that the Sieur Coulon, a writing master, had the honour to present to the King the 23d ult. a fleur-de-lis, formed of a single line of writing, containing the last words which Lewis XIV. when he was dying addressed to his present Majesty of France.

The Hereditary Prince of Denmark, who is to be married to his Majesty's youngest sister, the Princess Carolina Matilda, was born January 29, 1749, and the Princess was born July 22, 1751.

Alexander Middleton, Esq; is appointed Post-Master General to the islands of Grenada, Dominica, Tobago, and St. Vincent's; and set out by the pacquet this day, for the said islands.

It is said confidently, that the last dispatches for Paris contained the sense of the British Ministry on the step France has lately undertook in sending auxiliary troops to Corsica.

We hear that commodore Harrison, in the Mediterranean, will speedily be reinforced with a small squadron from England; after which that officer will soon appear in the straits of St. Bonifacio, which separates the island of Corsica from Sardinia.

We hear genuine copies of all the late memorials received from the Courts of Versailles, Lisbon and Madrid, or other parts on the continent, which bear any relation to the interests of this kingdom, on the differences at present subsisting between us and any of those powers, are already prepared, and will in a few days be laid before the Great Assembly of the nation.

They write from Glasgow, that 47 gentlemen of property embarked at Greenock in the course of the last month, on board the outward-bound ships, for the Grenades with a view to become purchasers at the ensuing sale of lands in the new ceded islands in the West-Indies.

A great number of fullers and dyers are contracted with for three years, to carry on those trades at New-York, where artificers of all kinds, at present meet with uncommon encouragement.
